Bivins Gallery showcases modern and post-war contemporary art and represents historically relevant established artists, cutting-edge emerging talent, key secondary market works, and the estates of important legacy artists. Since it opened in early 2017, owners Karen and Michael Bivins have continued to impress the movers and shakers of the Dallas art scene through exhibitions highlighting famous artists of the 20th century as well as new and up-and-coming talent. The gallery's inspirational shows have challenged guests to better understand contemporary art and its social and historical contexts.

Karen and Michael Bivins have lived, worked and traveled the globe discovering artists who together form an internationally diverse group with works that transcend cultural boundaries. To open the flow of ideas and dialogue across institutions, they'll be working with other galleries and curators from around the world to bring key educational programs, exclusive artists' lectures, and relevant documentaries and films to the heart of Dallas. Located in Uptown's esteemed Crescent Court, Bivins Gallery offers complimentary valet parking for patrons and guests.
